Title 22: Constitutional Law (Questions Bank Book Series)

This book should be returned on or before the date last marked below

Looking at content area A, the breakdown is 4% for knowledge; 4% for understanding; 2% for application and 2% for skills. The papersetter has to simply choose questions/items in this content area A from the book. Perhaps he can take 2 objective type test items for 2 marks and 1 short answer for 2 marks all checking knowledge; 1 short answer question for 4 marks involving testing comprehension; 1 short answer question for 2 marks checking application and 2 objective type items for 2 marks checking skills in computing etc.

A further table as given below will help choice of questions/items.

Objectives Content	Knowledge			Understanding			Application			Skills		Total
	Obj	SA	LA	Obj	SA	LA	Obj	SA	LA	Obj	SA
A	2	1	-	-	1	-	-	1	-	2	-	12%
	(2 marks)			(4 marks)			(2 marks)
B	4	1	-	4	2	-	2	-	1	-	-	22%
	(2 marks)			(2mks each)			(6 marks)
C	3	1	-	4	1	-	2	1	-	2	-	18%

	15	6	0	15	8	0	6	2	3	4	1

Number of objective type test items = 40

S. A. questions = 17

L. A. questions = 3

Part A 40 items 40 marks 40 minutes

Part B 17 questions 40 marks 95 minutes

Part C 3 questions 20 marks 45 minutes

Part A is made up of objective type test items and given first to students. They may respond on the question book itself or a separate response sheet by prepared and given. After the completion of Part A, Part B and C will be given for answering. A key to part A and answers to Part B and C must be prepared before starting correcting scripts.

It is inherent in the working of questions/items banks that those questions and items selected and put into a test or examination, must be item analysed for Facility Value and Discrimination Index considering the performance of students. (A detailed procedure for finding out FV and DI is given in the Section VII Pre and Post Validation items in the 'Monograph on Question Banking for Universities'). These values of FV and DI must be entered in the cards carrying these questions/items.

It is also possible that teachers can use the banks of questions/items for making up class tests much on the same lines as outlined above for university examinations. Perhaps a rigorous table of specifications may not be all that necessary for a class test at the end of a few lessons. It is required certainly when a class test is given at the end of a sufficient coverage of topics. An item analysis as above must be carried out and characteristics entered on cards.

After sometime, question/items (whose FV and DI) are known can be used out of a Question Bank to create criterion referenced tests viz. tests on which a minimum score of 75 to 80% can be fixed. These are items of around that value of FV. Tests and examinations can be constructed to diagnose weaknesses in learning. Suppose in a content area, the ability to apply oneself is required to be tested and diagnosed for its existence (or absence); then a series of application items in the area (of known FV and DI) can be chosen and made up into a test. Those who return poor scores on this will be diagnosed to lack the ability to apply and the teacher can suggest certain remedial measures. The presence of a good collection of all kinds of questions/items will enable different Boards of Studies and Examiners to increasingly think of restructuring the pattern of their papers. Teachers, examiners and others must imaginatively use the bank to serve different kinds of purposes always remembering the fact that item analysis is intrinsic to the operation and use of the bank.

CHECK LIST OF CRITERIA FOR PRE VALIDATION OF QUESTIONS/ITEMS FOR QUESTION BANKS

CRITERIA TO JUDGE THE QUALITY OF SELECTION TYPE ITEMS

A. GENERAL

- 1.0 Is the item measuring an important learning outcome?
- 2.0 Is the item measuring an important content area?
- 3.0 Is the level of difficulty likely to be right?
- 4.0 Is the item likely to be answered correctly by higher ability students?
- 5.0 Is the item likely to be answered wrongly by lower ability students?
- 6.0 Is the item independent or does it overlap with other items?

B. SPECIFIC

(i) CONSTANT ALTERNATIVE TYPE

- 1.0 Does the item include only one significant idea in each statement?
- 2.0 Is the statement so precise that it can be judged unequivocally true or false?
- 3.0 Is the statement short and using simple language?
- 4.0 Is the item using negative statements sparingly and avoiding double negatives?

(ii) MULTIPLE CHOICE/MULTIPLE FACET TYPES

- 1.0 Is the stem concise and unambiguous? Is the negative (if unavoidable) emphasized?
- 2.0 Is the stem a complete question by itself? Does the item require the student to read the options to discover what is being asked?
- 3.0 Is the context of the question clear?
- 4.0 Does the stem include anything that needs to be repeated in every option, within itself?
- 5.0 Are the options parallel in content?
- 6.0 Are the options parallel in structure?
- 7.0 Is the item devoid of any clues such as mix up of singular plural, precision and length of key option etc.
- 8.0 Is the key option unarguably correct?
- 9.0 Are the distractors plausible?
- 10.0 Does the item exclude all of these?

- 11.0 Is the language used in the item appropriate to the vocabulary of students at this level?
- 12.0 Does the item avoid similarity of wording in both stem and the correct answer?
- 13.0 Does the item exclude responses that are "all inclusive"?
- 14.0 Does the item use an efficient format?

(III) MATCHING

- 1.0 Does the item include only homogenous material in the "premises"?
- 2.0 Is the number of responses sufficiently larger so that the last of their premises can still have many options to choose from?
- 3.0 Does the item specify the basis of matching, type of matching, kind of entry etc.?

CRITERIA TO JUDGE THE QUALITY OF SUPPLY TYPE TEST ITEMS

A. GENERAL

- 1.0 Is the item measuring an important learning outcome?
- 2.0 Is the item measuring an important content area?
- 3.0 Is the level of difficulty likely to be right?
- 4.0 Is the item likely to be answered correctly by higher ability students?
- 5.0 Is the item likely to be answered wrongly by lower ability students?
- 6.0 Is the item independent or does it overlap with other items?

B. SPECIFIC

(i) Simple Question/ Completion

- 1.0 Is the item stated so that a single, brief answer is possible? (a word, a number or a phrase)
- 2.0 Is the question direct?
- 3.0 Is the answer related to the main point in the statement?
- 4.0 Does the item with the blank spaces make enough sense so that a student knows what to do?
- 5.0 Does the item in the case of a numerical answer indicate the degree of precision?

(ii) Short Answer Questions

- 1.0 Is the statement of question simple, clear, unambiguous?
- 2.0 Does the question involve observable, measurable behaviour?

- 3.0 Is the scope of the answer limited?
- 4.0 Is the direction given in the question, clear?
- 5.0 Is the question a valid testing situation for the ability considered?
- 6.0 Is the question likely to be interpreted in the same way by teachers/students/examiners?
- 7.0 Is the answer to the question capable of being marked objectively?
- 8.0 Is the question likely to have the right kind of difficulty value?
- 9.0 Is the question likely to be correctly answered by many higher ability students?
- 10.0 Is the question likely to be wrongly answered by many lower ability students?
- 11.0 Is the question capable of further restructuring?

(iii) Long Answer

- 1.0 In answering this question, in your opinion does the student need to organise his ideas, choose the form of his answer in his own words?
- 2.0 Does the situation presented in the question seem to be new to most of them?
- 3.0 Is it possible that students can produce memorised answer to this question?
- 4.0 Does answering this question involve sort of judgement on the part of students?
- 5.0 Is the time limit reasonable?
- 6.0 Is the length and scope of the answer specified?

The Madras Temple Entry Authorisation Act, 1957 was enacted to remove the disabilities imposed by custom or usage on certain classes of Hindus against entry into and worship in the Hindu temple of public character in the State. The trustees of a Hindu temple T in the State resisted the entry into and worship by all classes of Hindus into the temple on the following grounds:

- (i) that the Act could not apply to temple T as it was a denominational religious institution belonging solely to the "Cowda Saraswatha Brahmin Community" and not a Hindu temple of a public character; and
- (ii) that the Act was void being repugnant to Article 26(b) of the Constitution of India.

How will you decide? The relevant provisions of the Constitution are as follows:

Art. 25(2): "Nothing...shall prevent the State from making any law ____ (a)... (b)... throwing open to Hindu religious institutions of a public character to all classes and sections of Hindus"

Art. 26: ".....every religious denomination or any section thereof shall have the right -- (a).... ; (b) to manage its own affairs in matters of religion; (c)... ; and (d).....".

Mona, Sona and Tona, three men were accused to have committed a bank robbery. They were charged to have overtaken a van belonging to the City First Bank, fired at the driver and killed the security man accompanying him. They were, further, alleged to fire at people around, killing four of them, before making good their escape with the cash box containing fifty lakhs of rupees.

The State Government took serious view of this case of bank robbery; and ordered the trial of the accused by a special court constituted under the State Special Courts Act, permitting the Government to order special trials of such 'cases or classes of cases' as it might direct. The special court procedure marked a departure from the established procedure for trial under the code of Criminal Procedure, all to the material disadvantage of the accused.

The accused persons objected to their trial before the special court and contended that it denied them equal protection of the laws. Decide.

A Bombay law empowered the Commissioner of Police to make rules for the regulation of assemblies and processions at public places. In the exercise of his power, the Commissioner of Police made a rule which provides that no public meeting should be held without his permission within his jurisdiction. X applied for permission to hold a meeting concerning the All India Students' strike. The permission was refused on the ground that earlier under a similar permission certain elements had indulged in rioting and caused mischief to private and public properties. X challenges the validity of the order as imposing unreasonable restrictions on the right to freedom of assembly. Discuss whether X has any chance of success.

836. Constitutions and other basic instruments of government, PS;D2;35mts; 20mks.

State X passes a statute providing for certain structural changes and reforms to regulate the administration of all the affiliated colleges to the State University. It provides:

(i) Every affiliated college shall be under the management of a governing body which shall include among its members a representative of the University nominated by the Vice-Chancellor, two representatives of the teaching staff and one representative of the students of the college elected by the teachers and the students respectively.

(ii) In matters of appointment of the teachers the State X University Service Commission shall recommend a panel of two names for every post and the Governing Body of a college will appoint one of these persons.

(ii) No member of the teaching staff shall be dismissed, removed or reduced in rank except on the recommendation of the State X University Commission.

The management of a minority college Y affiliated to the State X University challenges the Statute as being inconsistent with the minorities' rights under Article 29 and 30 of the Indian Constitution. State X contends that—

(i) Y college cannot get the protection of Article 30(1) because it was not founded to conserve a language, script or culture as envisaged by Article 29(1); and (ii) the Statute provides the above mentioned regulations in the public interest.

How will you decide? Discuss.

A State Government directs all its colleges that no student belonging to a scheduled caste or scheduled tribe should be required to pay college and hostel fees. This is challenged as unconstitutional by a poor upper caste Hindu Student on the ground of discrimination between one student and another student. Decide.

St. Xavier's College in Ahmedabad (Gujrat) is run by a religious denomination of the Jesus and is affiliated to the Gujrat University since its establishment in 1955. Through amending legislation passed in 1954 and more importantly later in 1975, the Gujrat University Act, 1940 provided for certain essential structural changes and reforms in organisation and management of the institutions concerned with post graduate education in the following statutory plan:

(i) The college including St. Xavier's College hitherto affiliated to the University would become constituent colleges of the University.

(ii) Higher education, instructions and teaching in arts and science subjects would be conducted by the University teachers in the University departments, constituent colleges and other like institutions.

(iii) The teachers of such colleges would be appointed and/or recognised by the University.

(iv) Every college shall be under the management of a governing body which shall include among its members a representative of the University and representatives of the teaching and non-teaching staff and students of the college.

(v) The services of any members of the teaching or non-teaching staff would not be terminated without the formal approval of the University.

The management of St. Xavier's College impugnes the above statutory provisions as being inconsistent with the minorities rights under Art. 29 and 30 of the Constitution of India. Decide.

Ram owns a factory where small arms are manufactured. During war with a hostile neighbouring country the Government of India considers it necessary for defence to acquire Ram's factory. They have a law to that effect passed by Parliament and under the law Ram's factory is acquired by the Government. The law provides that Ram should be paid by way of compensation for the factory such price as he could have got for it immediately before the outbreak of the war. Ram considers this compensation unfair because since the outbreak of the war the prices of similar things have gone up by two hundred percent. Ram wishes to challenge the validity of the law. Would you advise him to challenge it on the ground of failure to comply with the obligation to pay compensation under Article 31?

The Speaker of a Legislative Assembly adjourned the House in March for two months on the eve of passing the State Budget. To enable the Appropriation Bill to be passed, the Governor of the State prorogued the Assembly, by a notification in the official Gazette dated March 11, 1968, and summoned it to meet on March 18. On March 13, he promulgated an Ordinance forbidding the Speaker from adjourning the House without the consent of the House until completion of financial business. The Assembly met on the fixed day. But the Speaker ruled that the Governor's Order summoning the adjourned House was illegal and declared that the House still stood adjourned for two months. The Speaker left. The Deputy-Speaker occupied the chair and the Money Bills were passed under his certificate.

The action of the Governor and the Assembly proceedings were challenged on the following grounds:

(i) Both prorogation and resumption were invalid. Therefore, the House continued to be in session. Since the Legislature was in session, the Ordinance could not be passed.

(ii) Certification of the Money-Bill by the Deputy Speaker was ultra vires Article 199(4) of the Constitution,

In a legislative assembly of 430 members, 300 belong to a party X which forms the government with M as the Chief Minister. The rest 130 members are divided among various opposition parties A, B, C and D. A being the largest having 80 members, whose leader N is designated as the leader of opposition. After the budget session was over and the Houses were prorogued, there erupted a crisis in the ruling party and 100 members of X party paraded themselves before the Governor and gave him a communication signed by all the 100, expressing lack of confidence and faith in M.

On hearing about this development N, the leader of opposition demanded resignation or failing that dismissal of the Council of Ministers and asked the Governor to invite him (N) to form a new government. The governor called M and asked him either to summon emergency of the assembly to test his majority or submit his resignation. M did not accept the advice of the Governor and instead asked him to dissolve the assembly.

How should the Governor act?

Shaw, an IAS officer in the junior scale (Rs. 700-1300) attached to the cadre of one of the North-Eastern States was posted in Delhi in the senior scale (Rs. 1100-1600) for a term of five years beginning with 28 February, 1970. But, following the budget session of Parliament in 1971, the Government of India decided to reshuffle the higher administrative positions and appoint such younger qualified persons who were capable of meeting the new challenges and commitments to the new social philosophy. Shaw was informed that he did not satisfy the requisite tests, and therefore, would be advised to rejoin the State cadre in his former post or alternatively he should proceed on leave preparatory to retirement.

Would the first of the two alternatives given to Shaw amount to his reduction in rank?

The Government decision in the above case require compliance with the procedure established by Article 31(2) of the Constitution?

The State of Madhya Pradesh passed an Act authorising the Government to set up 'special criminal courts' in order to put an end to the growing volume of offences pertaining to kidnapping in the dacoit infested areas such as Chambal Valley and the like. These courts function according to a procedure which is less elaborate and formal, and hence less favourable to the accused than the ordinary criminal procedure.

Mangu, a dacoit of Chambal Valley, who was tried and convicted by the 'special criminal court' for the offence of kidnapping, challenges the constitutional validity of the Act under Article 14 of Indian Constitution. - a) That the satisfaction of the President under Article 356 being the satisfaction of the Government of India is subject to judicial review.
- b) That the President cannot act under Article 356 when the Council of Ministers has the majority support of the legislature.

Having satisfied himself that situation exists in X State for proclamation of emergency, the President proclaimed emergency under Article 356 of the Indian Constitution. The emergency thus proclaimed is challenged by the Chief Minister of X State who commanded the majority vote in the State Assembly on the following grounds:

- a. So long as the Chief Minister commands majority vote in the Legislative Assembly the Central Government is not competent to issue the proclamation
- b. There must be some external facts on which the opinion of the President is based which in the present case is wanting.
- c. The proclamation is mala fide and simply purports to drive the Chief Minister (the petitioner) out of power.

Examine the grounds and decide the case.

A widespread and aggravated form of discontent amongst the people of State A, owing to the corruption, mismanagement of the affairs of the State, abuse of power by the Council of Ministers and exorbitant rise in the price of essential commodities, etc., results in the complete breakdown of the law and order situation in the State.

The President of India, without receiving a report from the Governor of State A, issues a proclamation under Article 356 of the Constitution, on his satisfaction that "a situation has arisen in which the government of the State A cannot be carried on in accordance with this Constitution". Imposes President's rule and dissolves the State Assembly.

The Chief Minister, Z, so dismissed, contends:

- (i) that the proclamation has been improperly issued as the President cannot act under Article 356 when the Council of Ministers has the majority support of the Legislature and
- (ii) that the 'satisfaction' of the President under Article 356 being in fact the satisfaction of the Government of India, is subject to judicial review. Critically examine each of the two contentions of Z.

M moves the High Court impugning the Presidential proclamation on the following grounds:

- i) That Article 356 read with Article 355 cannot give an unrestricted power to the President.
- ii) That the 'Satisfaction' of the President under Article 356 is the satisfaction of the Government of India and is thus a justiciable issue
- iii) That the proclamation is improperly issued as the President cannot act under Article 356 when the Council of Ministers has the majority in the Legislature.
